Synopsis Pilot:

Roby is a 16-year-old boy, he loves to explore and enjoys nature with K1-BoBot his A.R.C. One weekend they travel to White Tiger Lake, an area that decades ago was the scene of a nuclear catastrophe. Now it is an area of abundant nature and crystal-clear waters. As night falls, they camp at Dragon's Claw, a huge ancient statue of solid rock built in the middle of the forest. After dinner Roby and BoBot play video games and then count stars in the sky until they fall asleep.

(Dream sequence begins) BoBot walks through the streets of a place devastated by a tsunami, people's belongings are scattered everywhere, there is no one else. BoBot picks up and puts things where they belong. He picks up a worn photo frame, pictured is a woman with her A.R.C. they are both happy, she is a person who lived in that house, BoBot sheds a tear.

(Finish dream sequence)

BoBot wakes up anguished and turns to see Roby who is lying next to him. Roby opens his eyes and tells him that he also dreamed the same thing again.

At that moment, a ship flies over them, from the ship 3 Robo-raptors come out, Robots similar to velociraptors. They are quite a bit bigger than Roby and BoBot. While two Robo-raptors fight with BoBot, the other Robo-raptor takes Roby to the ship, Roby struggles to escape without success. BoBot skillfully fights to prevent Roby from being taken away, but the Robo-raptors are very strong. In the confrontation, BoBot falls badly injured, losing consciousness while the Robo-raptors flee with Roby.

BoBot awakens in a hospital for A.R.C. and immediately remembers how the Robo-raptors took Roby away. BoBot removes the cables attached to his body and leaves the room, the A.R.C. doctors try to stop him without success.
