

robosen

Synopsis Pilot:

After another night of recurring nightmares, Roby wakes up late for his robotic class presentation. Trying to hide his insecurities, he showcases his K1 robot's natural language in front of his classmates. However, the presentation quickly turns into a total failure, as his K1 starts giving a speech about a future where Roby is a hero who saves humanity. This makes Roby appear cocky, and he becomes the target of teasing and ridicule by the school bullies. At home, Roby scolds the robot, who seems to know everything about Roby's dreams. "You're listening to me sleep-talking, right?". The robot claims that those dreams are glimpses into other dimensions and that he is just delivering a message from Archonic, who is held prisoner and needs Roby's help. To reach him, Roby has to activate his K1's hidden code and upgrade its charging station into a spawn portal. Filled with disbelief and suspecting it might be another prank, Roby accepts the task of collecting a list of seemingly random objects to open the portal. To his surprise, the portal activates, and he and his upgraded K1 robot are sucked into a post-apocalyptic world where they spy on evil robots named Scythes. They sneak through the security system of a prison and get to a cell where Archonic is held prisoner. Archonic reveals that he is from a future, where two AI robot armies are facing each other. It all began when humans developed their first general AI, and a subsection of the algorithm named Rakshasa went rogue. Considering organic beings inferior creatures, Rakshasa went on a mission to enslave inhabitants of different worlds and dimensions. Roby is overwhelmed, but there's no time to take it all in because a group of Scythes attacks them! During a thrilling battle, Archonic teaches Roby the ways of the Robosen and how to use his special abilities to fight off the Scythes. Despite some initial setbacks, Roby is able to free Archonic, and they ultimately emerge victorious. The window of alignment for Roby to get back home is about to close. Before he leaves, Archonic tells Roby that his mission on Earth is as important as the ones in other dimensions. Roby gets home through the portal and receives new instructions from Archonic through his K1, which leads them to make a plan to infiltrate the factory where his K1 was created...

robosen

The Reason:

It's a self discovery story. Is this shy boy that discovers in another dimension his true potential as a hero and a leader.

This story normalizes a life with humans and robots co-existing in our world, which is the ultimate goal. Robosen can create many different robots, and this world has infinite possibilities with all of the dimension we can explore.

Series:

Roby gets home through the portal and receives new instructions from Archonic through his K1, which leads them to make a plan to infiltrate the factory where his K1 was created.

Through the series will learn about the Robosen and why K1 it's connected to Archonic, and what kind of race are they.

Trying to safe the galaxy, and discover why he is the chosen one, Roby will still have to manage a normal kid's live.